

CG 214 Web Page Construction | Spring 2021

Department of Computer Graphics

Instructor: Ramon Gil

Contact info: ramon_gil@fitnyc.edu

Office Hours: (by appointment)

Description

Students will learn many aspects of constructing and implementing web pages, from content creation through coding, and production. Current HTML and Wordpress, is discussed, demonstrated, and used to create deliverable web pages. By the end of the semester, the student should have an understanding of how to construct a website and apply global formatting as well as localized formatting to web pages.

Format

All major lessons and lectures will be prerecorded and available to the student for reference. Class time will be devoted mainly for supervised class work on assignment when student may request assistance from the instructor. There will be no exams or quizzes. Grades will be based on a weekly assignments, a mid-term project and a final project. Attendance will also be counted toward the final grade.

Virtual Location

We will be using a video chat platform called Kumospace. Once you have entered, use your arrow keys or mouse to virtually move to and find a station. Use Chrome on a laptop or desktop. Phones and tablets are not 100% supported.
